GENERAL COMMENTS

A very attractive detached period cottage located at the end of a private drive and set well back from the road. The whole property is extremely private. The accommodation includes: entrance hall, study, sitting room with wood burning stove, dining room with wood burner, kitchen, shower room, utility/outhouse. On the first floor there are two bedrooms. All windows and doors are double glazed and heating is provided by modern electric high retention storage heaters. Outside is an excellent range of buildings including an attractive traditional brick and stone barn with potential for conversion into an annexe (subject to consent), two substantial timber garages/workshops and a large open fronted shed in the rear paddock. There are mature front and rear gardens and two adjoining paddocks. In all the land and grounds extend to approximately 1.04 acres. The property is being sold with no chain.

LOCATION

Carbis Cottage is located on the outskirts of Roche. Roche, known in Cornish as 'Tregarrek', means homestead of the rock. The village takes its name from a granite outcrop east of the village and Roche is the Norman-French word for Rock. On top of Roche Rock is a ruined chapel (dedicated to St Michael) which is said to have been the abode of a leper or a monk. Roche has been a village of some prominence being sited close to (but suitably away from) the industrialised china clay areas of Cornwall. Today it is a thriving community with a range of facilities for everyday needs including pub, church, shop/post office and primary school. The village is particularly convenient for access to the A30 and therefore easily accessible to all parts of the county.

In greater detail the accommodation comprises (all measurements are approximate):
