GENERAL COMMENTS

1 Trennick Row is a very attractive double fronted period house that is the end terrace of this sought after row of individual properties overlooking Truro River and within a very short level walk of Truro city centre. The house is beautifully presented and retains much charm and character and many wonderful period features. Not surprisingly it is Grade II Listed. The accommodation includes three double bedrooms, study landing and bathroom on the first floor. The master bedroom has an en suite shower room. On the ground floor is an entrance hall, sitting room, dining room, snug, fitted kitchen, utility/cloakroom and garden room. Outside are fabulous front and rear gardens and a driveway provides parking for two cars. The whole property is extremely private. The rear garden is enclosed within a high stone wall and is full of colour and well stocked with many specimen shrubs and plants. There are lots of sitting out spaces enjoying the sunny aspect and pleasant views. The house had a brand new natural slate roof this year and benefits from mains gas fired central heating. The majority of windows have bespoke secondary glazing. An internal viewing is essential.

LOCATION

Truro is renowned for its excellent shopping centre, fine selection of restaurants, bars, private and state schools and main line railway link to London (Paddington). The Hall for Cornwall is also a popular venue providing all year round entertainment and other cultural facilities include the Royal Cornwall Museum and the historic Cathedral.

Boscawen Park is just a short walk from the property, perfect for families and those looking for large green space on the outskirts of the city. The Truro Towns Fund have granted their first payment to start building the Boscawen Sport and Recreation Hub, which will focus on the health and wellbeing for people of all ages and abilities.

The creekside village of Malpas lies approximately two miles to the south east of the Cathedral city of Truro, which is Cornwall's main administrative centre with an excellent selection of shopping, business and schooling facilities with the main line rail link to London (Paddington). Malpas is in a delightful waterside location with nearby river and creekside walks, boat yard and popular eating house called the Heron Inn. In the summer months there are river trips that can take you out into the Carrick Roads to the port of Falmouth which is the gateway to some of the UK's finest day sailing waters with various sailing clubs in the vicinity and Falmouth being the third largest natural harbour in the world which is also home to the National Maritime museum and the renowned Royal Cornwall Yacht Club.

OUTSIDE

1 Trennick Row is approached through double metal gates that open into the driveway and front garden. There is parking for two cars and two permits are available from Truro Council for additional parking on the road if required. The front garden is very private and enclosed within dense boundaries and deep flower beds stocked with many mature shrubs and plants. A wisteria over the front door provides colour in the early spring. An unmade lane leads up the side of the property where a pedestrian gate opens into the back garden and continues to the rear where there are double gates opening into the top of the garden.

REAR GARDEN

The rear garden is a sheer delight and must be seen to truly appreciate. It is enclosed within a fabulous stone wall that provides total privacy and is extremely secure. The garden has been imaginatively landscaped to take full advantage of the sloping site and is spread over three levels and stocked with many interesting mature shrubs, plant and trees together with several paved terraces for sitting out. Whilst there are far too many specimen plants to mention individually they include a huge selection of acers, magnolia, agapanthus, roses, rhododendrons, apple trees, hydrangeas, fig and many more. The wooden workshop at the top of the garden has light and power.

SERVICES

Mains water, electric, drainage and gas are connected.

N.B
