Covenants on Title

The property is subject to restrictive covenants and easements as noted in the Land Registry Charges Register, originating from a Deed of Covenant dated 4 September 1886 and Conveyances dated 21 May 1890 and 13 July 1892. These include strict requirements to use the property as a private dwelling/house only, absolute prohibitions on trades, workshops, manufactories, or operative machinery, and restrictions preventing temporary structures such as caravans, tents, or huts. Development is subject to a specific building line (indicated by a blue broken line on the title plan) and boundary fence maintenance. We recommend that all prospective buyers review the official Register of Title and the accompanying Lease with their legal representative to satisfy themselves as to the full extent of these entries.

These particulars do not constitute part of an offer or contract. They should not be relied on as statement of fact and interested parties must verify their accuracy personally. All internal photographs are taken with a wide angle lens, therefore before arranging a viewing, room sizes should be taken into consideration.
