LOCATION

Standing elevated above the pedestrian access 'Rose Lane' that gives direct access on foot to the High Town, this property is approached up a series of steps with off road private parking opposite.

Bridgnorth is a charming and historic market town, renowned for its architecture, listed buildings, and beautiful churches. Rich in heritage and character, the town is perhaps best known for the famous Severn Valley Railway, which travels through picturesque countryside along the River Severn to the town of Kidderminster. The town offers an excellent selection of independent shops, cafés, traditional pubs, and restaurants, together with regular markets and community events that contribute to its vibrant and welcoming atmosphere. Everyday conveniences are well catered for, with supermarkets, healthcare facilities, a hospital, and highly regarded primary and secondary schools all within easy reach. There is a good selection of leisure and cultural attractions. Residents and visitors can enjoy the distinctive Art Deco surroundings of Majestic Cinema or attend performances at Theatre on the Steps, an intimate venue presenting a varied programme of drama, music, and comedy throughout the year.

For those who enjoy the outdoors, there are numerous walks and cycling routes along the banks of the River Severn and through the surrounding countryside. The town is also home to the iconic Bridgnorth Cliff Railway, which links High Town and Low Town and provides unique views across this historic and attractive market town.

ACCOMMODATION

This character home with high ceilings and large proportioned rooms, has been extensively modernised, The reception hall, laid with attractive Minton tiled flooring, has stairs rising to the first floor, while a useful cloaks cupboard and doors lead to the principal ground floor reception rooms. The breakfast kitchen is laid with exposed oak flooring and benefits from a bay window to the front elevation. It is well appointed with handcrafted 'Grange' cabinets, work surfaces, and Fired Earth tiling, ceramic sink and taps. There is an 'Aga oven' with gas hob and double ovens beneath, together with a traditional Rayburn, fuelled by wood and coal. A window overlooks the rear courtyard. From the hall, a door leads to a utility area with space for laundry appliances, an additional sink unit, a skylight, and a rear door giving access to the courtyard.

The beautiful living room features exposed pine flooring, a bay sash window, and French doors opening onto the front garden. An open fire with stone surround forms an attractive focal point. A further door from the living room leads to an additional rear hall offering excellent storage, complete with a Belfast ceramic sink and access to a large cellar. Beyond lies what was originally the original kitchen, now converted into a useful workshop and store. This room retains many original features, including high ceilings, quarry tiled flooring, and an adjoining larder, built directly into the sandstone having steps descending to the original stone shelving with tiled tops.

On the first floor, the landing gives access to the impressive principal bedroom suite. This begins with a walk-in dressing room, currently used as a home office, with a sash window to the front elevation. The adjoining bathroom is fitted with a white suite comprising a wash hand basin, WC, and enamelled bath with shower over. A sash window overlooks the rear aspect. A built in cupboard houses the recently installed central heating boiler. The main bedroom itself features exposed pine flooring, a beautiful cast iron fireplace, and a sash window enjoying elevated views to the front. Steps lead up to an adjoining conservatory, creating a delightful sitting area with double doors opening onto a small roof terrace. Opposite the principal suite is a generous guest double bedroom with exposed floorboards, an attractive feature fireplace, bespoke fitted cupboards and drawers, and a sash window to the front elevation. Completing the first floor is a separate cloakroom fitted with a wash hand basin and WC.

Stairs continue to the second floor landing, which benefits from a sash window to the rear elevation and access to the loft space. A double bedroom enjoys a dual aspect with sash windows to both the front and rear elevations, together with a cast iron feature fireplace. There is also a fifth bedroom with a sash window to the rear, while a further spacious double bedroom features exposed pine flooring, an attractive fireplace, and two sets of bespoke built in wardrobes. The accommodation on this floor is completed by a shower room fitted with a corner shower enclosure, WC, wash hand basin, and sash window to the front elevation.

OUTSIDE

Occupying an elevated position above Oldbury Wells, a gate opens into the attractive front garden. Predominantly laid to lawn, it is bordered by well-stocked flower beds and mature shrubs which provide colour and seasonal interest throughout the year. A pathway leads to the front entrance. Enjoying a desirable southerly aspect, the garden is beautifully established and thoughtfully planted. It includes a vegetable patch, greenhouse, and a separate cave which provides excellent additional storage.

Steps rise to a further large garden area situated to the rear of the property, enjoying a high degree of privacy. This delightful space has been carefully designed to incorporate a natural wildflower area alongside lawned sections and productive raised vegetable beds. The property benefits from its own driveway opposite the house providing private off road parking.
