Ar Dachaidh is a charming and substantial four-bedroom detached home occupying a delightful setting in the sought-after Skye of Curr, surrounded by beautiful gardens of circa 1/3rd of an acre and enjoying a wonderful sense of privacy with open views across neighbouring countryside to woodland and hills beyond. Entered through a welcoming vestibule and central hallway, the accommodation flows naturally to a bright and comfortable sitting room where a focal fireplace creates a warm and inviting atmosphere. Across the hall, the dining room offers an elegant space for formal entertaining and family gatherings, while the spacious kitchen/breakfast room blends space with traditional character, including exposed ceiling beams and ample room for everyday dining. A ground floor bathroom completes the principal living accommodation. Ascending to the first floor, a generous landing provides access to four well-proportioned bedrooms. The principal bedroom enjoys excellent proportions and attractive garden views, while bedrooms two, three and four offer flexible accommodation for family living, guests or home working. A family bathroom serves the upper floor. Externally, the property is complemented by extensive mature gardens, creating a picturesque setting with sweeping lawns, established specimen trees, flowering shrubs and open outlooks across surrounding fields and woodland. The grounds provide exceptional space for outdoor recreation, entertaining and gardening enthusiasts alike. There is a detached timber garage and adjoining store/shed, offering excellent workshop and storage space with potential for a variety of uses. Combining period character, generous accommodation and an enviable rural setting within easy reach of local amenities, Ar Dachaidh presents a rare opportunity to acquire a distinctive family home in one of Strathspey's most attractive locations.
