Inver & Tain

Inver is a peaceful and picturesque village located in the Scottish Highlands, near the Dornoch Firth and surrounded by stunning natural landscapes. This charming coastal village offers a tranquil way of life, with unspoiled beaches, open countryside, and scenic views that make it an ideal spot for those who love the great outdoors. Inver is well-connected to nearby Tain, a historic town just a short drive away, providing a wider range of amenities, including supermarkets, independent shops, cafes, and restaurants. Tain is known as Scotland's oldest royal burgh and boasts attractions such as the Tain Through Time visitor centre, the Glenmorangie Distillery, and a vibrant local community. Outdoor enthusiasts will find plenty to enjoy in the surrounding area, from coastal walks and wildlife watching to fishing and golf at one of the nearby courses. The area also hosts a variety of events throughout the year, celebrating local culture and traditions.

Transport Links

From Inver, residents and visitors can access a variety of transportation options for exploring the wider UK:

Airports:

Inverness Airport (INV): Approximately 43 miles away, this regional airport offers domestic flights and some international connections.

Aberdeen International Airport (ABZ): Roughly 95 miles away, providing a wider range of domestic and international flights.

Train Stations:

Tain Railway Station: Just 5 miles from Inver, offering regular connections to Inverness, Dingwall, and further afield.
Inverness Railway Station: Approximately 35 miles away, providing access to Scotland's major cities, including

Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Aberdeen, as well as direct services to London and connections to the wider UK rail network.

Road Routes:

A9: The main north-south route in the Highlands is easily accessible from Inver, connecting to Inverness, Perth, and further south to Stirling, Glasgow, and Edinburgh.
A836: This scenic route runs along the east coast, linking Inver to Tain, Dornoch, and the northern Highlands.
With these options, Inver offers convenient access to both local destinations and the wider UK, whether traveling by air, rail, or road.
