What the owner says

When we moved down from London we were looking for good inside and outside space. This property offered by far the best in the Poets Corner area.

We've since remodelled and extended upwards to create space for family life, entertaining and working from home.

The large garden has been designed to be green all year round — lush and tropical through the spring and summer months.

Step outside and Poets Corner does the rest with its outstanding schools, local parks, and independent coffee shops, pubs, and shops all just a short walk away.
