Cae Syr Dafydd

Set within a quiet cul de sac in the heart of Pontcanna, this distinctive detached home occupies an unusual position within one of Cardiff's most sought after neighbourhoods. Built as part of a small 1970s development surrounded by elegant Victorian homes, it offers a combination of detached living, private parking and generous outside space that is rarely found in this part of the city.

The house has been thoughtfully maintained and provides bright, practical accommodation arranged around everyday family life. The kitchen and dining room form the heart of the home, opening directly into the conservatory and garden beyond to create an easy flow between inside and out. The sitting room enjoys plenty of natural light, while the converted garage provides valuable additional space with direct garden access, ideal for storage, hobbies or a home office. Upstairs are three well proportioned bedrooms together with a well appointed family bathroom, making the property equally suited to families, professional couples or those looking to downsize without compromising on space.

Outside, the rear garden has been carefully landscaped across two levels with generous paved seating areas, mature stone walling, a pond feature and established planting, creating a private setting for relaxing or entertaining. To the front, the property benefits from a driveway together with a useful garage store.

Cae Syr Dafydd sits within the heart of Pontcanna, one of Cardiff's most desirable residential districts. Cathedral Road, Pontcanna Street and Kings Road Yard are all within walking distance, offering an excellent selection of independent cafés, restaurants, bakeries and shops. Sophia Gardens, Llandaff Fields and Bute Park provide acres of green open space nearby. Cardiff city centre and Cardiff Central railway station are easily reached on foot, with excellent road links to the A48 and M4.
