Situated within the tree-lined elegance of Plastron Gardens, this remarkable four-bedroom Victorian home blends timeless character with refined living across four beautifully arranged floors. Rich in original features – from ornate fireplaces and sash windows to coved ceilings and tiled floors – it's a home of real warmth and depth.

Positioned on one of Cardiff's most prestigious garden squares, this is Pontcanna at its best – leafy, elegant and brimming with independent spirit. Just a stroll from cafés, restaurants, boutiques and green spaces like Bute Park and Sophia Gardens, yet moments from the city centre and well-connected transport links.

A rare chance to own a soulful family home in one of Cardiff's most cherished neighbourhoods.

The welcoming entrance hall gives access to two good size reception rooms including a front sitting room with stone fireplace and bay window, and a rear space with wood-burning stove that flows into an open-plan kitchen/dining/family area. Light pours in through rear glazing and side skylights, creating a bright, sociable heart to the home. A discreet utility corridor and cloakroom lead out to a private garden with summerhouse and rear access. Downstairs, a converted basement offers valuable versatility – ideal as a studio, playroom or snug.

The first and second floors provide four generous bedrooms and three bathrooms, including a luxurious top-floor suite with freestanding bath and marble-topped vanity. Storage is plentiful throughout and a modern lift offers access between the living space and main bathroom.
