Wyncliffe Gardens

Set within the established residential setting of Wyncliffe Gardens, this inviting end-of-terrace home unfolds across three floors, with a particularly generous ground floor that has been extended to create an easy, sociable connection between the living space and garden.

The entrance hall introduces warm wood flooring that continues through much of the ground floor. To the front, the kitchen is fitted with a good range of cabinetry and integrated cooking appliances, while the extended living and dining room forms the heart of the house. Two skylights bring additional natural light into the rear section, and glazed patio doors open directly onto the garden. A wood-burning stove, set on a slate hearth beneath a timber mantel, gives the room a natural focal point.

Two bedrooms and the family bathroom occupy the first floor, while the upper storey is given over to an impressive principal bedroom suite. Alongside the bedroom itself is a walk-in dressing room and private shower room, creating a degree of separation rarely found in homes of this size.

Outside, the enclosed rear garden combines lawn and paving with established planting, while a garage with power, side access and an EV charging point adds useful practicality.

Wyncliffe Gardens is positioned in Pentwyn, with a broad range of everyday amenities available locally and in neighbouring Pontprennau, including supermarkets, shops and Cardiff Gate Retail Park. The area is well connected for the A48 and M4, making travel into Cardiff and further afield straightforward. Local schooling includes Bryn Celyn Primary, St David's Church in Wales Primary and St Bernadette's Catholic Primary, while Cardiff's wider parks, leisure facilities and city centre amenities are also readily accessible.
