Entrance Hall

The front entrance is approached through a composite panelled door with peephole, an obscured double glazed half moon window and a further obscured double glazed window above. The hall has a coved ceiling, tiled floor and partially tiled walls, together with patterned built in coat hooks. An internal wooden door with glazed panels leads through to the main hallway.

Ground Floor Hallway

The hallway features a distinctive black and white chequerboard tiled floor, coved ceiling and a small archway separating the main corridor from the stairwell. A radiator sits beneath a varnished timber shelf, while a dado rail and picture rail add further period detail. The staircase rises from the hall, with timber bannister and handrail, while useful storage is found beneath the stairs. The kitchen is accessed towards the rear of the property.

Lounge/Dining room

A beautifully presented, versatile reception and dining space combining period character with contemporary style. The room is filled with natural light and features warm timber flooring, a striking reclaimed timber fireplace with a recently installed multi fuel stove, and bespoke built-in cabinetry with open shelving. The adjoining sitting area provides a comfortable and relaxed space for everyday living, with elegant wall panelling, a soft neutral palette and attractive garden outlook. Thoughtfully styled throughout, the room offers an excellent balance of character, functionality and understated sophistication, ideal for both entertaining and family life.

Kitchen

The kitchen is reached via a wooden panelled sliding door and is arranged around a double glazed side facing window with a tiled sill and recessed spotlights. The room has tiled flooring, light timber effect work surfaces, tiled walls and a stainless steel sink with drainer positioned beneath the window. Integrated appliances include a dishwasher, built in oven, gas hob and extractor fan, with a combination of wall and base units providing storage. An exposed timber beam spans one of the alcoves, with a further work surface and base unit creating useful additional preparation space. There is space for a small breakfast bar or informal seating area, with a radiator beneath, together with designated spaces for a fridge freezer and washing machine. A dedicated plate storage section adds further practicality.

Sun room/Garden room

An archway and corner of the kitchen lead through to the sun room/garden room, which has a partially sloping ceiling, tiled flooring and a radiator concealed behind a timber cover. Double glazed French doors open directly onto the rear garden, bringing natural light into the space and providing easy access outside.

First Floor Landing

The first floor landing retains varnished timber floorboards and is approached via a staircase with a wooden bannister and handrail. There is useful storage beneath the stairs leading towards the attic conversion. A step leads into the corridor towards the front of the house, with a further step down into the bathroom.

Bedroom One

The principal bedroom is positioned at the front of the property and features two double glazed windows, a radiator, coved ceiling and varnished timber floorboards. A particularly generous built in wardrobe runs across one side of the room from floor to ceiling, with three sliding doors providing substantial storage.

Bedroom Two

A further double bedroom overlooking the rear of the property, with a double glazed window, coved ceiling, radiator and varnished timber floorboards. An exposed chimney stack provides character, while an adjoining built in wardrobe offers additional storage.

Family Bathroom

The bathroom is positioned towards the rear and benefits from a double glazed obscured window and partially sloping ceiling. The room features a built in bath with a shower fitted over with both rainfall and handheld showerheads. and is finished with textured green tiling, complemented by gold coloured fittings, including the shower controls, showerheads, handles and taps. A ceramic wash basin sits alongside a further section of textured green tiling framed in gold. There is a WC, radiator and two spacious storage cupboards, one housing the boiler behind shutter doors. Varnished timber floorboards and a timber panelled entrance door complete the room.

Attic Space

The attic space provides a versatile upper floor space, with a double glazed skylight positioned within the rear facing sloping ceiling and recessed spotlights. Four built in storage cupboards are cleverly incorporated into the side walls, providing useful concealed storage. An exposed chimney stack forms an attractive focal point, with an alcove beneath featuring a wall light. Further character comes from the exposed varnished timber beams, timber staircase surround and decorative timber panelled steps with batten detailing. An electric radiator completes the room.

Rear Garden

The peaceful south facing rear garden begins with a stone paved terrace, creating a natural setting for outdoor dining and entertaining. The main garden area has a tap and water butt positioned to the rear of the house and a timber shed providing useful storage. Brick walls enclose either side, with timber fencing providing further privacy. The garden is bordered by raised flower beds containing established plants and flowers, while an artificial lawn extends across the principal garden area towards the rear boundary. A stone wall and brickwork form the backdrop, creating a private and enclosed outdoor setting.
