This well-proportioned home offers comfortable living space in a practical layout, making it a good option for families or anyone looking for a bit more room. The entrance area is handy for everyday use, with space for coats and shoes, and leads into a bright and welcoming lounge. A large front-facing window lets in plenty of natural light, and there is a fireplace that adds a nice focal point to the room.

The hallway connects the main living areas and offers a useful bit of extra space for storage. It leads through to the sun room at the back, which feels private and gets a good amount of sun throughout the day. With direct access to the garden, it works well as a quiet sitting area or additional living space.

The kitchen diner is a good size and has plenty of room for a table, making it a practical space for day-to-day life or having family and friends over. There's a good amount of storage and workspace, and a window over the sink looks out onto the rear garden, giving the room a nice outlook.

Upstairs, there are two double bedrooms and a single room. The front and back bedrooms both get a good amount of natural light, and the smaller room could work as a study, nursery or guest room. There is also a decent-sized landing and some useful built-in storage.

The bathroom has a simple, modern finish with a white suite and a clean, neutral style. It is functional and easy to maintain, with everything you'd expect in a family bathroom.

Outside, there are gardens to both the front and rear. The back garden enjoys a sunny, south-westerly aspect with a patio area that is great for sitting out or eating outside in warmer months. There is also a garage with side access from the garden and an extra bit of lawned land to the side of the property, which offers a bit more outside space.

In addition there is a useful extra piece of land, ideal for those looking for a small allotment or just another garden to tend.
