Situated in a culturally rich city with a deep-rooted Roman History, Chester offers exceptional heritage to explore. Additionally, the city has a diverse collection of restaurants and bars. Bollands Court is situated in arguably one of the best positions within the city walls, nestled down a quiet street only moments away from the city centre. Within this development all dwellings are bespoke and not one property is the same. These new build properties are not only from the present but also refer back to traditional brickwork detailing and design, as well as these traditional construction methods we have also included a depth of modern design and living aspects.
