AGENTS NOTE

The rear garden backs onto the River Cole which runs along Aqueduct Road. When the development was constructed in the early 1970's the land to the rear of the property was designed to accommodate the flood plain. The property itself was flooded internally in the May bank holiday floods in 2018 in a freak weather incident that resulted in many properties along the River Cole, the Stratford upon Avon Canal and Earlswood Lakes flooding. Since this time the local authorities and environment agencies have accepted their responsibility in the failings that lead to the flooding and many homeowners received grants to provide flood defence windows and doors, return valves and air bricks which have been installed in this particular property. To the vendors best knowledge the property had never previously flooded internally and hopefully as a result on the changes to the landscape at the rear of the property including a new soak away area there will be no further problems going forward - and even if the water was to rise to the level of the house the flood defence doors would stop any water ingress.

TENURE: We are advised that the property is Freehold.
