IF YOU LIVED HERE...

Step through the front door and the long entrance hall immediately gives a good sense of the house's proportions. Finished with warm terracotta-toned floor tiles, it has a grounded, welcoming feel, while two handy storage cupboards are tucked neatly off the hallway. From here, the layout opens into a pair of reception rooms, with the first to the front and a second behind. Together they create a flexible living and dining arrangement, with timber flooring, built-in shelving and a simple, carefully kept finish throughout.

To the rear, the kitchen is compact and practical, arranged with pale fitted cabinetry, timber worktops, tiled splashbacks and a door straight out to the garden. That garden is a real strength of the house, stretching to approximately 54ft, with a long lawn and plenty of space for planting, outdoor dining or simply letting children run around.

Upstairs, there are two well proportioned double bedrooms and a smaller third room that could work equally well as a nursery, study or single bedroom. The bathroom is neatly finished with a freestanding shower. Altogether, the house feels unfussy, comfortable and ready for the next chapter.

WHAT ELSE?

· Lloyd Park is the obvious local favourite, with open lawns, tennis courts, the William Morris Gallery and the weekend Lloyd Park Market all close by.

· The Waltham Forest Feel Good Centre is nearby for swimming, gym sessions, tennis, family activities and a spa day when you want one.

· Both Walthamstow Central and Blackhorse Road connect to the Victoria line and London Overground, making day to day travel across London refreshingly straightforward.

A WORD FROM THE EXPERT...

"I love living in Walthamstow – it's got such a great mix of things going on. Saturdays are my favourite, with the market in Lloyd Park full of fresh food, handmade bits, and plenty of friendly faces. The new Soho Theatre has brought amazing shows right to our doorstep, and if I fancy a pint, the Blackhorse Beer Mile breweries are perfect for a wander. When I need some fresh air, the Walthamstow Wetlands are just a short stroll away – all that greenery makes you completely forget you're in London. Plus, with brilliant transport links, it's so easy to hop on the Tube or Overground and be in Central London in no time at all".
