We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

17 Broadview Close, Eastbourne, BN20 9RB

A stunning, rare find and deceptively spacious detached three bedroom bungalow, tucked away in a quiet cul-de-sac in the highly sought after area of Willingdon. Beautifully upgraded and repointed by the current owners, the property offers extended accommodation including a generous additional reception room, a bright conservatory and a well appointed kitchen featuring integrated Bosch and Neff appliances. The main reception room enjoys outstanding views towards the South Downs, while the living room overlooks the landscaped rear garden with French doors opening onto the patio. Further benefits include a modern shower room, two external power sockets and gas central heating via a Vaillant boiler. Occupying a generous plot, the bungalow boasts a superb wrap around private rear garden, thoughtfully landscaped with a large patio terrace, mature planted borders and a high degree of privacy. To the front, a substantial driveway provides ample off-road parking for multiple vehicles and leads to a detached garage. Ideally positioned just a short drive from Polegate's mainline railway station, shopping facilities and doctors' surgeries, whilst remaining close to the South Downs, this wonderful home must be viewed internally to fully appreciate the space, setting and quality on offer.
