We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

4 Bedroom 3 Reception 2 Bathroom

28 Mayfield Place, Eastbourne, BN22 8XJ

A truly outstanding double fronted period semi detached home, beautifully presented throughout and offering elegant accommodation arranged over three floors. Brimming with original character and complemented by stylish modern touches, this exceptional family home boasts four generous double bedrooms, three impressive reception rooms and wonderfully proportioned living spaces ideal for both family life and entertaining. The property further benefits from a family bathroom, en-suite shower room and two separate cloakrooms, while original fireplaces, sash windows, exposed floorboards and high ceilings create a home of real distinction and timeless appeal. A particular highlight is the remarkable rear garden, exceptionally large for the area and providing a wonderfully private setting with multiple seating areas, a generous lawn and mature planting. At the foot of the garden sits a substantial brick built former garage, now beautifully converted into an inspiring painting studio, equally suited as a home office, gym or creative workspace. Combining period grandeur with modern practicality, this is a rare opportunity to acquire a truly special home offering space, character and versatility in abundance.
