A rare opportunity to acquire the former Salvation Army Hall, conveniently located close to Millom town centre.

This versatile property offers excellent potential for a wide range of community organisations, charities, clubs, businesses, or other local groups seeking flexible premises.

Please note that there may be restrictions contained within the title deeds. However, due to the poor quality and legibility of the available documentation, prospective purchasers are strongly advised to obtain their own independent legal advice and make their own enquiries regarding any restrictive covenants or other matters affecting the title before proceeding.

A prominent corner building set just back from the main town centre street, this attractive former Salvation Army Fortress offers a versatile opportunity for a wide range of uses, subject to any necessary consents. Featuring attractive corbels and characterful architecture, the property would make an ideal purchase for community groups, charities, educational organisations, or other similar uses.

Accessed via double entrance doors from the front street, the welcoming foyer can be reached by either two steps or a ramp, providing disabled access. From the foyer, doors lead to a number of useful storage rooms, male and female WC facilities, and a disabled WC, which is also equipped with a baby-changing station. Further doors open into the spacious main hall.
