This exceptional, refurbished three-bedroom period terraced house has been thoughtfully updated to offer a harmonious blend of classic charm and contemporary comfort.

The spacious reception room, featuring a bay window and thoughtfully reinstalled plaster ceiling roses, along with the rest of the ground-floor pendant lights, adds a touch of period elegance. The heart of the home is undoubtedly the spacious kitchen/diner, a chic, minimalist space complete with microcement worktops and a dedicated utility area. A convenient ground-floor WC adds to the practicality of the layout. The ground floor features elegant engineered wood flooring, laid over an underfloor heating system that extends throughout the entire property. New double-glazed sash windows throughout the home ensure each room is bathed in an abundance of natural light.

As you ascend to the upper floor, restored original floorboards add character and warmth to every bedroom. Notably, the primary bedroom is remarkably spacious, complete with an attractive bay window. The two further bedrooms are just as elegant as the primary. The bathroom boasts beautiful grey Terrazzo flooring and walls, creating a sophisticated space. The spacious south-facing rear garden is fully landscaped with a patio space and enjoys sunshine all day, making it ideal for relaxation and outdoor dining.

Residents will enjoy superb local amenities right on their doorstep. Francis Road, with its array of independent shops and eateries including Marmelo, Yardarm, and Edie Rose, is just a five-minute walk away. For a charming day out, Walthamstow Village is a stroll away. When a wider selection is desired, Westfield is easily accessible, and numerous local restaurants cater to every taste. Commuting is a breeze, with both Leyton Midland Road Overground station and Leytonstone Tube station within easy walking distance, offering excellent transport links into Central London and beyond.
