Located on the tree-lined Colchester Road, this substantial five-bedroom period terraced house offers an expansive layout across three floors.

The ground floor opens into a welcoming hallway leading to the heart of the home, which begins with a bright double reception room featuring a classic bay window; this through-reception flows naturally into a dining area, providing a versatile footprint for both formal entertaining and daily life.

To the rear, the property opens into an impressive extended kitchen and sitting room. This area is characterised by multiple skylights that bathe the space in natural light, complemented by sleek built-in storage. From here, double doors provide direct access to a low-maintenance, paved rear garden, which features a handy outbuilding for additional utility or storage. Completing the ground floor is a downstairs WC, neatly tucked away behind the staircase.

Moving to the upper floors, the first level comprises three well-proportioned bedrooms and a further single room, perfectly suited as a home office or nursery. The primary bedroom at the front mirrors the ground floor with its large bay window and integrated wardrobes. The top floor houses a professional loft conversion, offering a private fifth bedroom complete with an en-suite shower room, built-in wardrobes, and accessible eaves storage.

The surrounding E10 neighbourhood offers a vibrant community feel; you are moments away from the green space of Abbotts Park and a variety of local favourites, including Perky Blenders, Bread and Oregano, and Tun café and bar. For evening entertainment, the Leyton Calling cocktail bar is nearby, while being a stone's throw from Leyton Midland Road Overground station, ensuring excellent connectivity.
