

Belgrave Road, Walthamstow, London

Belgrave Road is a well-presented five-bedroom mid-terrace house situated in an established residential area of Walthamstow, East London.

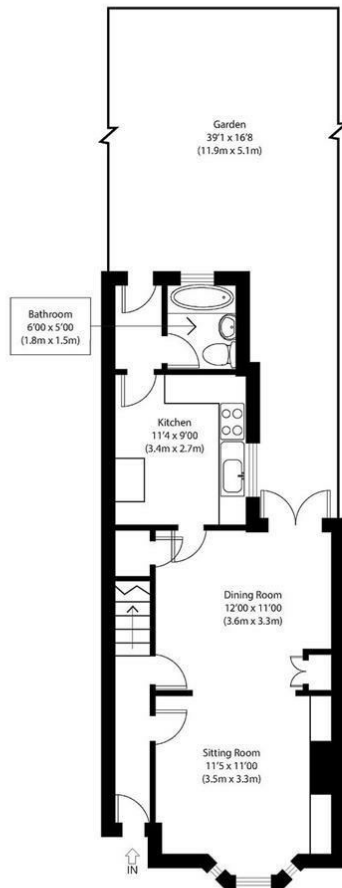

The property is maintained in good condition throughout and offers well-proportioned accommodation arranged over three floors. The house provides a practical layout for family living, comprising a through lounge, kitchen, five bedrooms and two bathrooms, together with private outside space.

The ground floor provides a spacious through lounge, creating a versatile reception area suitable for both living and dining. The through-lounge arrangement provides good flexibility and allows the space to be used as separate living and dining areas while retaining a feeling of continuity throughout the ground floor.

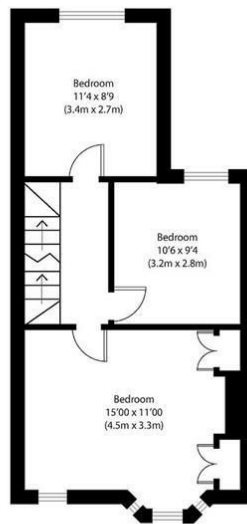

To the rear is the kitchen, providing the main cooking and preparation area and offering access towards the rear of the property. The kitchen provides a practical base for everyday family use, with potential for future modernisation or reconfiguration should a new owner wish to further improve the property. The property also benefits from a family bathroom, completing the existing ground floor accommodation.
