LOCATION

Lordship Farmhouse is located in the historic hamlet of Commercial End which includes a large number of historic and listed properties including The Abbey and remains of the former Priory. Commercial End forms part of the village of Swaffham Bulbeck, a small village in a pleasant setting located between Bottisham, Swaffham Prior and Lode in Cambridgeshire. The village is approximately 11 km (7 miles) north-east of the University City of Cambridge and 11 km west (7 miles) of Newmarket, the headquarters of British horse racing, and approximately 33 km (21 miles) to Bury St Edmunds. The historic cathedral City of Ely is approximately 24 km (15 miles). The site is located on Commercial End and has an attractive rural outlook across adjoining meadow land and farmland.

Swaffham Bulbeck has a vibrant and thriving community life benefiting from a range of amenities including a public house (The Black Horse Inn), post office/shop, church (St. Mary's Church), recreation ground with play facilities and pavilion, pre-school and primary school. Secondary School education is available at the nearby village of Bottisham (Bottisham Village College), Soham Village College is also nearby. There are doctors surgeries in nearby Bottisham and Burwell and a number of businesses located within barn conversion complexes in the village.

Swaffham Bulbeck has a regular bus service which runs to Newmarket and Cambridge and benefits from good access to major road routes including the A14, A11 and M11. The Cambridge Newmarket Road Park and Ride is approximately 8 km (5 miles). The A14 is approximately 6 km (3.5 miles) away and provides good access to the Cambridge Science Park and the M11. There are nearby train stations at Cambridge North 14 km (8.5 miles), Waterbeach 6 km (3.7 miles) and Cambridge Central 14 km (9 miles) which provides direct access to London, and a further train station at Newmarket. The village is well located and also has good access to the Cambridge Science Park and Life Science Campuses around the City.
