LOCATION

Rectory House enjoys a secluded position in the West Norfolk village of Hilborough, on the northern edge of Thetford Forest, in Breckland. It is a biodiversity hotspot, particularly for birds. The village has Nelson connections, and is a strong community mainly serving the neighbouring estate. It has a church, a thriving public house and village hall and is on a local bus route. The village of Mundford (5 miles south) has an excellent store with integral post office and butchers shop, serving all daily needs; and a primary school rated by Ofsted as excellent. Swaffham (6 miles to the north) has three supermarkets (a fourth is planned), three GP surgeries, a dentist and a weekly market. Thetford (20 mins) and Brandon (15 mins) have stations on the Norwich-Cambridge line (30 mins to Cambridge North), Downham Market (30 mins) is on the King's Lynn to London Kings Cross line. Norwich, Cambridge and Newmarket are quickly reached by the nearby A11, and Bury St Edmunds is also easily accessed. State secondary schools are to be found in Swaffham, Methwold, Brandon and Thetford. There are several private schools in Norfolk, of which Greshams in Holt (coed, boarding) and Culford School (Culford, Suffolk, coed day and boarding, 45 mins away) stand out. There are excellent leisure facilities in Downham Market, Dereham and King's Lynn. All the attractions of North Norfolk are within easy reach: the coast, Wells and Holkham Hall under an hour by car, Houghton Hall and Sandringham nearer, as well as several theatres and cultural centres.
