A rather stylish and attractive double-fronted, detached period home, which has been sympathetically improved and extended in more recent times, and provides well-proportioned and versatile living accommodation, incorporating many features of quality and character, together with a delightful and generous part-walled garden.

LOCATION

The property occupies a prominent and quite delightful position, close to the heart of this highly sought-after south Cambridge village with it's own excellent range of local amenities, many of which are within easy walking distance of the property itself. The village is also conveniently located for the commuter, just one mile from the M11 motorway access point at junction 10, and there is also a mainline station in the neighbouring village of Whittlesford. The University City of Cambridge is about 10 miles distant and the market town of Saffron Walden is about 8 miles to the south.
