LOCATION

Highsett is a discreet and highly regarded estate, tucked away between Hills Road, Lyndewode Road and Tenison Avenue, in one of Cambridge's prime residential locations. Set within attractively landscaped and carefully planned communal grounds, the development enjoys an enviable balance of privacy and convenience, being only a short walk from Cambridge railway station, Botanical Gardens and less than a mile from the historic city centre. Constructed in 1964 by the renowned Span Developments as part of Phase 3 of the scheme, the estate comprises 48 houses and 37 flats. The flats themselves are Grade II listed in recognition of their architectural significance, while Phase 3 was awarded the prestigious RIBA Gold Medal in 1966, a testament to the innovative design and enduring quality of the development. Highsett remains a celebrated example of mid-20th century modernist architecture, offering both historical importance and a desirable setting for contemporary living.
