Location

Wicken is ideally situated between Newmarket and Ely, with easy access to Soham. This charming village has a strong sense of community, highlighted by the welcoming pub, The Maids Head, where you can enjoy drinks or a meal with friends and family. Wicken also boasts a village hall that hosts a variety of regular events.

Wicken is home to the stunning National Trust Wicken Fen, one of Europe's most significant wetlands. The Fen serves as a crucial habitat for many endangered species and features the last remaining wooden windpump in the Fens. After a scenic walk, visitors can relax at the cozy 'Docky Hut', where drinks and snacks are available. It is also home to the historically significant Spinney Abbey, believed to date back to 1217. Originally known as Spinney Priory, it was once an active monastery and is now a country house and farm, specializing in local breeds and meats while offering a variety of fresh produce to the public.
