The building formerly known as Wesleyan School and Sunday School dating back to 1852 is of great scale and ambition, This was the school that young Wallace Hartley attended before he went on to become the Band Master onboard the Titanic.

There are many famous people who attended the school, some of who's names can still be seen inscribed into the side of the building, such as the scientist, Colne born Edmondson Spencer (1885 - 1955) who was a chemist and geologist.
