Situation

3 Odun Place occupies an elevated residential position in Appledore, enjoying attractive views across the village, the Torridge Estuary and the rolling countryside beyond. The setting offers an appealing sense of privacy while remaining conveniently placed for the village's historic quayside and excellent range of amenities.

Appledore is one of North Devon's most admired coastal villages, celebrated for its rich maritime heritage, colourful cottages and atmospheric network of narrow streets. The bustling quayside remains at the heart of village life, with fishing boats, sailing craft and visiting vessels providing an ever-changing backdrop. From here, delightful views extend across the estuary towards Instow and the surrounding countryside.

The village has a strong community spirit and a thriving creative identity, with a varied selection of independent shops, cafés, galleries, restaurants and traditional pubs. Scenic walks can be enjoyed along the waterfront and coast, while the area provides numerous opportunities for sailing, kayaking and other water-based pursuits.

The nearby village of Northam caters for a broader range of everyday requirements, while the popular resort of Westward Ho! is renowned for its long sandy beach, dramatic pebble ridge and excellent surfing conditions. Adjoining the beach is Northam Burrows Country Park, an impressive expanse of grassland, dunes and saltmarsh that provides wonderful opportunities for walking and wildlife watching. The historic Royal North Devon Golf Club is also close at hand.

The port town of Bideford offers a wider selection of shops, supermarkets, schooling and leisure facilities, while Barnstaple, North Devon's principal regional centre, provides an extensive range of commercial amenities and transport links. The location therefore combines the character and lifestyle of a sought-after coastal village with convenient access to the wider attractions and facilities of North Devon.
